Western Carolina University is excited to announce that our new WCU Talent Management system, hosted by PeopleAdmin, went live today as planned.

To assist departmental users with the new Talent Management system, a series of training sessions have been scheduled. These training sessions will provide information regarding WCU’s approach to talent management and show you how to use the new system to implement new actions and manage the associated workflows.

These training sessions are intended for individuals who are directly involved with the following activities:

- Creating or modifying position descriptions,
- Posting jobs,
- Managing applicants,
- Making job offers.

Date, time, location, and registration details for these sessions are listed below. Please note that these sessions are specific to position type so participants can apply the information to their needed actions.
