

PHILOSOPHY & RELIGION DEPARTMENT
Concentration in Religious Studies, checklist
(30 hours)

I. Foundations of the Study of Religion (12 hours)

Three of the following:

- PAR 242: What is Religion?
- PAR 145: Eastern Religious Traditions
- PAR 146: Western Religious Traditions
- PAR 312: Philosophy of Religion

Required:

- PAR 295: Self, Society and the Good Life

II. Religion and Cultures (6 hours)

- PAR 250: Origins of Early Christian Traditions
- PAR 251: Understanding Islamic Traditions
- PAR 260: Women and Religion
- PAR 367: Native American Religions
- ANTH 365: Religion, Magic and Myth
- ENG 290: Literature and the Sacred
- ENG 350: The Renaissance
- ENG 390: The Bible as Literature
- ENG 420: Chaucer and His Age
- ENG 440: Milton and His Age
- HIST 313: The High Middle Ages
- HIST 365: History of the Caribbean
- HIST 375: Middle East since Mohammed
- HIST 455: American Religious History

III. Religion and Critical Thought (6 hours)

- PAR 307: From Existentialism to Feminism
- PAR 308: From Pragmatism to Postmodernism
- PAR 312: Philosophy of Religion
- PAR 320: Philosophical and Religious Classics
- PAR 323: Mysticism and the Modern Mind
- PAR 330: America's Wilderness Ethics and Aesthetics
- PAR 353: Religion in Film
- PAR 354: Religion, Suffering and the Moral Imagination
- PAR 355: Contemporary Religious Classics
- PAR 365: Medieval and Reformation Theology: Divine Foreknowledge, Free Will, and Justification
- PAR 366: Religion and Science: God's Law and the Laws of Nature
- PAR 380: Independent Study
- PAR 392: Morality, Conflict, and Community
- PAR 393: Topics in Philosophy and Religion

IV. Seminar Hours (6 hours)

- PAR 392: Morality, Conflict, and Community – or –
- PAR 393: Topics in Philosophy and Religion

- PAR 495: Seminar in Philosophy and Religion

NOTE: Courses (such as PAR 392) may be used in two sections if taken twice.

Also Required: Modern Foreign Languages 231-232 or 240: 6 hours