

The Rural-Urban Exchange

Spring Semester 2012

An Opportunity for Teacher-Education
Students in all Majors

Apply to participate in the Eleventh annual Rural-Urban Exchange (RUE), a collaborative undertaking involving the College of Education and Allied Professions (CEAP) at WCU and the School of Education at North Carolina Agricultural & Technical State University(NCA&T) in Greensboro. Six students from WCU and six from NCA&T will be selected to participate.

For more information and to apply for the RUE, go to the website:

<http://www.wcu.edu/3082.asp>

WCU Students:

- will be the guests of NCA&T and visit schools in Guilford County during the week of March 26-30, 2012
- have the opportunity to earn 1 to 3 hours credit to either psychology or special education
- have the opportunity to contract to have 3 hours credit in either psychology or special education satisfy the Liberal Studies upper level perspective requirement
- host students from NCA&T who visit WCU and local public schools during the week of March 12-16, 2012

The RUE is available to all teacher-education students at WCU who are:

- Juniors or seniors, and
- Not in full-time student teaching or Internship II during Spring 2012.

Accommodations, meals and transportation – are supplied at no cost to students

For more information and to pick up an application, contact Dr. John Habel in the Department of Psychology (Killian 308, phone 227-3367, email: habel@email.wcu.edu) or Dr. Tom Oren in the School of Teaching & Learning (Reid 105, phone 227-3290, email: oren@email.wcu.edu)

The application deadline now is 12/9/2011.

Send materials to Drs. Tom Oren or John Habel

