

A Native Perspective: Using Native American Literature in Reading Class

Would you like to kindle (or rekindle) your students' interest in reading? Would you like to use books that promote lifelong lessons while teaching students to appreciate other cultures? You will learn about activities and make craft projects that compliment the literature and motivate readers. The books presented offer a positive view of Native American culture and provide a forum for diversity and tolerance in the classroom. You will also be exposed to websites useful in checking accuracy of information about Native American books and how they relate to culture. These books and activities can help your learners achieve the goals of the North Carolina Standard Course of Study

About Your Presenters:

Jonnie Walkingstick: A veteran teacher of 25 years currently teaching at Cherokee Elementary School, a tribal school located in Cherokee North Carolina. Jonnie is an enrolled member of the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians.

Lisa Bloom: An educator since 1980. She earned her doctorate in 1989. She is currently a professor of education at Western Carolina University in Cullowhee, NC. She has done extensive research in the areas of motivation and classroom management. Her most recent research involves motivating reluctant readers.

A Native Perspective: Using Native American Literature in Reading Class

First Name: _____ MI ____ Last Name _____

Organization: _____

Address: _____

City _____ State _____ Zip _____

Phone: _____ Email _____

Registration: Register by

October 30, 2009 for 89.00

99.00

Method Check payable to WCU Credit Card Purchase Order (Please invoice)

Cardholders Name: _____

Card Number: _____

Expiration Date: _____

To register online visit

<http://learn.wcu.edu>

Or mail completed form

below to: WCU

Continuing Education

138 Camp Bldg.,

Cullowhee, NC 28723

Course begins:

November 6, 2009

Camp Building Room

143

1PM to 7 pm

Register by

October 30, 2009 for

89.00

For directions or a campus map go to:
<http://www.wcu.edu/546.asp>

Pre-registration is required. Cancellation refunds, minus a $10 processing fee, are available only until 3 business days prior to the class and must be received in writing. All classes, workshops and seminars are subject to minimum enrollments. WCU reserves the right to cancel this offering at any time. In such cases, full refunds will be granted to all participants. Additional registration forms are available at <http://learn.wcu.edu>. For questions, please contact Continuing Education at 828-227-7397 or email: sfouts@email.wcu.edu.