CAT-TRAN is an on-campus transportation system for students, staff, faculty, and visitors. The daytime service addresses the transportation needs of both commuting and resident students. The nighttime service is designed to address transportation, security, and safety issues at night. CAT-TRAN is managed by the University Police.

Buses run only when class is in session. See map for scheduled stops and follow numbers for directions.

All CAT-TRAN vehicles are equipped with police radios. The radios allow drivers to report problems and incidents to police dispatchers supplementing police patrol coverage of the campus.

Construction on campus can result in route changes. Check the website for updated routes and stops at cattran.wcu.edu

THINGS TO REMEMBER

- The CAT-TRAN drivers will only stop at designated route locations.
- CAT-TRAN runs only when classes are in session.
- CAT-TRAN buses are equipped for special needs. Please call 227-7301. Allow 30 minutes advance notice.
- CAT-TRAN Office 227-8726

- We need help in evaluating and commenting on the service so that we can make adjustments and improvements. Comments and suggestions may be submitted from the web page.

Visit Cattran.wcu.edu for complete CAT-TRAN information, including current routes and timetables.

TRACK OUR BUSES

Cat-Tran is now using NextBus, an APP that provides transit information through the internet to mobile devices such as smartphones, tablets and computers. You can also text to receive arrival information and subscribe to receive messages pertinent to your route. Log on to nextbus.com, selecting North Carolina and WCU-Cat Tran, to track your bus route, see the stop times and plan your day of transportation.

CAT-TRAN shuttle times and availability can be affected by adverse weather.
