NOVEMBER 2018

BUILDING A LEGACY

Attendance and participation for Homecoming events exceeded the previous year. Votes for Homecoming King and Queen doubled from the previous year. Over 100 students participated in Pumpkin Patch and carved or painted a pumpkin. wellRED Comedy Tour had over 500 in attendance at the Bardo Arts Center. As popular as ever, the Homecoming Carnival entertained over 2000 students and community members with rides and games. T-Pain and Blackbear gave an excellent performances to around 2,000 people. Over 1,000 t-shirts were given away during Homecoming week. Community members are already asking when next year's Homecoming will be so they can plan ahead and attend.

2018 HOMECOMING KING & QUEEN

Hannah Sink, a senior from Kernersville majoring in communication sciences and disorders, and Jonah Weston, a junior from Raleigh majoring in communication, were announced as Western Carolina University's Homecoming queen and king Saturday, Nov. 3.
