CAT-TRAN is an on-campus transportation system for students, staff, faculty, and visitors. The daytime service addresses the transportation needs of both commuting and resident students. The nighttime service is designed to address transportation, security, and safety issues at night. CAT-TRAN is managed by the University Police.

Buses run only when class is in session. See map for scheduled stops and follow numbers for directions.

All CAT-TRAN vehicles are equipped with police radios. The radios allow drivers to report problems and incidents to police dispatchers supplementing police patrol coverage of the campus.

Construction on campus can result in route changes. Check the website for updated routes and stops at cattran.wcu.edu
