

What can I do with a degree in... SPANISH?

Why study SPANISH?

Spanish is the second most popular language in the United States with more than 52 million people speaking it in their homes. Having the ability to read, write and converse in Spanish gives you a competitive edge in the job market. Bilingual job candidates are desirable to employers in a variety of occupational fields. A career using the Spanish language is also a great way to travel to and even live in foreign countries. Western Carolina University's Bachelor of Arts in Spanish prepares students to speak Spanish and have a deeper understanding of the history and culture of Latin America and Spain.

The B.A. program in Spanish includes learning the Spanish language (both Peninsular and Latin American variants), and courses covering the culture and history of both Spain and Latin America. The coursework includes classes such as Spanish Civilization; Spanish Prose and Poetry; Spanish-American Civilization; Hispanic World Topics. Students will also have opportunities to study abroad in a number of countries. Spanish faculty and students are also active in the local Hispanic community and you will have opportunities for hands-on cultural experiences and language practice.

Many students who major in Spanish also choose another major or minor to complement their career goals or pathways.

What is the DEGREE OPTION?

Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) in Spanish

What is the ADMISSION PROCESS?

Students declare their interest in Spanish through the Advising Center, located in Killian Annex. Set up an appointment with your advisor through your MyWCU student portal, or contact any of the Spanish faculty members to become a part of the program.

What JOBS ARE AVAILABLE?

Graduates of the Spanish program may work in a number of career fields. Many Spanish majors go on to work in translation/interpretation, K-12 education, foreign service, higher education, healthcare, non-profit organizations, arts and culture organizations, and many other fields.

How can I STUDY SPANISH abroad?

Aside from studying at a partner institution or with a study abroad provider, you can also travel and study with WCU's Spanish faculty. We regularly offer faculty-led study abroad programs to Spain, Costa Rica, Argentina, and Cuba.

MORE INFORMATION

INTERNSHIP Information

At Western Carolina University there are numerous internship opportunities for students. In some cases internships are established through a faculty member in the student's major. Oftentimes students find part-time jobs in an area related to their field of study. When this happens, students should discuss with their academic advisor the possibility of receiving college credit. Generally, three hours of general elective credit can be earned for a minimum of 200 hours of experience.

SKILLS LEARNED in the classroom

The core competencies will center on developing skills, knowledge, and attitudes such as:

- independent thinking
- critical thinking
- problem solving
- written and oral communication
- professional teamwork
- curiosity and creativity
- fluently speaking Spanish
- goal setting

KNOWLEDGE Base

This program will prepare students to:

- Express themselves fluently and spontaneously
- Use the language flexibly and effectively for social, academic and professional purposes
- Produce clear, well-structured, detailed texts on complex subjects showing controlled use of organizational patterns, connectors and cohesive devices.
- Understand a wide range of texts, including classical literary works, and recognize implicit meaning.
- Acquire a thorough knowledge and understanding of the various cultures related to the language.
