Status shows you the number of seats in the course, number of waitlist seats, and will also show you if the course is at capacity.

Once you click “add”, if you are eligible to register, you will have the PANELS open. If you want to open panels prior visit there is a button in the bottom left corner. (Trouble Shooting these areas will be following)

The screenshot shows a registration interface with a top navigation bar containing "Student", "Registration", "Select a Term", and "Register for Classes". Below this is a "Register for" section with a "Find Classes" button and a search results area. The search results show "Media Law Lecture" with a schedule of "S M T W T F S - Ty".

Two yellow callout boxes provide instructions:

- Left Callout: "This panel would show if your class had a synchronous required class time, but you can also see this when you search (a time you must be online). This will be RARE, since 99% of distance classes do NOT have a specific time in which they meet (they are asynchronous)." This callout points to the "Media Law Lecture" search result.
- Right Callout: "This panel will show you the courses you are working to get registered for. You will see one of the following in this box:
Web registered – this means you want to register for this course
Remove – this means you want to remove this from your summary" This callout points to the "Summary" table.

The interface also features a "Schedule" tab and a "Summary" tab. The "Schedule" tab shows a "Class Schedule for Spring 2021" grid with columns for days of the week and rows for times from 6am to 9am. The "Summary" tab shows a table with columns: Title, Details, Hour, CRN, Schedule, Status, and Action. The table contains one row for "Media Law" with details "LAW 406, 50", 3 hours, CRN 11308, and a status of "Pending". The action column shows "Web Registered".

If everything looks correct, and your status says “pending” you will want to hit the “submit” button to submit your course registration. You will see “registered” in status, which means you are registered for the course.

The main section is titled "Register for Classes" and includes tabs for "Find Classes", "Enter CRNs", and "Schedule and Options". Below this, search results for "Spring 2021" and "Subject: Biology" are shown. Two classes are listed:

Class Name	Subject	CRN	Section	CRN	Term	Prerequisites	Days	Time	Type	Seats	Link
Human Biology Lecture	Biology	104	01	3	10709	Spring	Green Admissions (Primary)	S M T W T F	03:30 PM - 05:10 PM	Lecture	80 of 90 seats remain.	LINKED

Callouts point to the "Save Successful" message ("Registration was saved.") and the "Search Again" button ("Click here to search for more classes.").

The bottom section shows a "Class Schedule for Spring 2021" grid and a "Summary" table:

A callout points to the "Registered" status in the summary table ("Registration status"). A green circle highlights the "Submit" button at the bottom right.

Registration with CRNs (Course Registration Numbers)

You can find a list of classes (updated weekly) on the Current Students page, under the Schedule of Classes tab. The Schedule of Classes document includes CRNs, Liberal studies categories, availability, and other important information. The CRN is a 5-digit number associated with a class.
